MUSICAL CLUBS IN WORCESTER CONCERT APRIL 5

Lectures Given By Miss Brégy

Literary Subjects Chosen For
Excellent Talks by Well Known Artist

Miss Katherine Brégy, Litt.D., lectured to the students and their guests on the afternoons of the 24th and 26th in the auditorium. She demonstrated in her highly literary style how the pendulum of literature is swinging from the cult of individualism to the fundamental truths. On each occasion, Miss Brégy addressed a crowded audience, whose plaudits gave ample proof of their deep appreciation.

The subject of the lecture on Tuesday was "The Christian Reaction in Recent Literature." She took Chesterton, Belloc and Papini for a preliminary study before commencing on her extensive and deep analysis of the author and playwright, Paul Claudel. Mr. Chesterton was cited for his romance of truth, "Orthodoxy" and for "The Wise Man," a bit of passionate realism. Miss Brégy then pointed out that Papini's "Life of Christ" although a religious book, is a "best seller." Here she began anew with real enthusiasm. She was to speak about Claudel. It was on this author that Miss Brégy lectured here four years ago.

Fenwick Hall was the scene of the second lecture, on Thursday. The subject being "American Catholic Poets." This she divided into three heads: poet priests, poet nuns, and layman poets. Under the first division she mentioned Father A. Ryan, who by "The Conquered Banner" made his name immortal; also Father J. B. Tabb, whose sheer ability enabled him to climb the highest rank. Among the laymen, Charles W. Stoddard was criticized as being more of a dreamer than an artist; his greatest work was "His South Sea Idyls." Maurice F. Egan, Thomas A. Daly, Thomas Walsh, Charles Philip, Eleanor R. Cox, Francis Carlin and Doctor O'Hagan were all mentioned by Miss Brégy with her own inimitable critical appreciation before she began her talk on Louise I. Guiney and Joyce Kilmer, two of the truest artists.

MENDEL CLUB WILL HEAR DR. SULLIVAN

Dr. Raymond P. Sullivan of St. Vincent's Hospital, New York City, will lecture before the Mendel Club on Thursday evening, April 2, on "The Medical Profession and the Public."

Dr. Sullivan is well known in medical circles in New York for his surgical skill and especially for his success in abdominal operations. His visit to Holy Cross promises to be of particular interest to the members of the Mendel Club.

Mr. Paulding Returns To H. C. Next Week

Mr. Frederick Paulding will return to Holy Cross on the 2nd and 3rd of April. On Thursday, April 2nd, he will lecture on "The Greatest Comedy of Manners" (The School for Scandal). The following afternoon the subject of his discourse will be "Poetry and Symbolism in Drama and Story" (Copee's "Violin Maker" and Wilde's "The Young King.")

Mr. E. L. Kelly, '16, Addresses Nexians

"Law and Its Present Day Application" is Subject

On Friday night, March 27, at 8.30 o'clock, the Nexus Club was provided a most interesting lecture by Mr. Edward L. Kelly, '16, on "Law and its present-day application." Mr. Kelly is the present Secretary to the Governor of Connecticut, and his valuable experience proved a great asset in explaining various difficulties that arise today in the legal world.

Mr. Kelly, in the course of his talk, touched on the sacrifice which must be made by men in public service. He pointed out that law schools do not pretend to teach practice in law, and that law school graduates should unite with a general practitioner before attempting to make a beginning for themselves. The necessity of some knowledge of law in any business was also stressed in an enlightening manner.

The meeting was closed with a few remarks by President Miller, '25, and Father Ahern, Moderator of the Club, both of whom thanked Mr. Kelly for his informal yet exceedingly practical lecture.

PHILLY CLUB FORMS ACTIVE ORGANIZATION

The Philadelphia Alumni are at last an active organization. That, which has been so eagerly sought for, and so heartily desired has been realized. At a recent luncheon which was under the very capable management of Joseph A. Henderson, ex-'15, plans were formulated for a renewal of regular meetings.

The Philadelphia Alumni Association was founded in April, 1908, but due to the war period became inactive and after the war no steps were taken to revive it. It was mainly through the interest of Father Dinand, S.J., in the various alumni associations and the devoted efforts of William B. Hussie, '03, and John J. Gilroy, Jr., '21, that the dormant alumni of the Quaker City have been re-aroused to their sense of loyalty and duty, and have once more rallied to the standards of Alma Mater.

Fr. Joseph L. Curran, '17, has been elected the new president and John J. Gilroy, Jr., '21, was chosen secretary.

The club is planning for a banquet during Easter week and the date is to be the choice of Father Dinand, since it has been unanimously voted that no affair would be complete without his presence.

Plaques Donated For New Offices

Valuable Collection of Books
Also Received From an Alumnus

The beauty of the new office of Fr. Rector, now being constructed on the lower corridor of Fenwick Hall, will be greatly enhanced by several kind donations recently made to the College. Chief among these are five wood-carvings, one of them showing St. Ignatius in the University of Paris proposing to St. Francis Xavier the question, "What doth it profit a man if he gaineth the whole world and suffer the loss of his soul?" and the others portraying four of the founders and early benefactors of Holy Cross, namely, Bishop Fenwick, S.J., Father Fitton, S.J., Father O'Kane, S.J., and Father Hanselman, S.J.

That of St. Ignatius and St. Francis is the gift of the Lay Professors, made on the occasion of Fr. Rector's feast day; it will be placed over the fireplace in the office.

The plaque of Bishop Fenwick is the gift of Mr. John C. Langan of Brooklyn, N. Y.

D. Francis Mahoney is the donor of the plaque of Father Fitton. This carving is the work of one of the Passion players of Oberammergau who is now in the employ of Thomas and Company of Worcester.

That of Father O'Kane has been donated by the Holy Name Society of Spencer, under the direction of Rev. Patrick Manion of the Holy Rosary Church. As Father O'Kane was a native of Spencer, the people of that town are taking a special pride in donating this valuable gift to the College.

Hon. Augustine F. O'Neil, a judge of Akron, Ohio, and a member of the class of 1910, is giving a similar plaque of Father Hanselman, S.J., who was connected with Holy Cross in an official capacity for a number of years and was later the holder of some of the highest offices in the Society. Fr. Hanselman was American assistant to the General in Rome, the highest office that an American Jesuit can hold.

In addition to these gifts, William J. Gavin, '08, of New York City, has presented a very valuable collection of the Classics to Rev. Fr. Rector.

JUNIOR-FRESHMAN SMOKER APRIL 2ND

Arrangements have been already completed for the monster smoker and reception to be tendered the Purple "Papoos" by the Junior Class on April 2nd, in Fenwick Hall. This is somewhat of an innovation on the Pakachoag social calendar, traditionally speaking, since previous events of this kind have been fostered solely by the Seniors and Sophomores. But precedents are not without their pleasant surprises, and this one promises to supercede all others, as the excellent program will testify. Chairman Matthew Barron has on his list of assistants Eugene Fallon, Thomas Dwyer, Harry Lyall, Paul Hettinger, Robert Hayes, and Frank Nuss.

RECITAL TO BE HELD IN POLI'S THEATRE NEXT SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Famed Quartet and Appearance of Noted Tenor Guarantee
Excellent Program—Former Concerts Well Received—Hilltoppers Also to Feature

J. EDWARD BOUVIER, CONDUCTOR

The combined Musical Clubs will give their annual Worcester concert at Poli's Theatre, on Palm Sunday, April 5, and will make their appearance at 2 P. M. Mr. Allen McQuhae, a tenor who has gained an enviable reputation during the past years in New England, will be the assisting artist.

Nine Prepares To Go South

Sixteen Men on Squal—To Play Seven Games

On Saturday, Coach Jack Barry and his pupils are scheduled to hie off to the Southland on a two-week jaunt which includes a program of seven games at various Mid-Atlantic cities. This Southern trip was originally considered only as a training stunt, but this year it has assumed a decidedly more serious aspect due both to the quality of the opposition and to the ever present desire of other college nines to beat Holy Cross. The most important tilts of this year's trip are the Princeton and Villanova encounters.

Nothing definite as to the complement of the squad has as yet been announced, except that 16 players will accompany Coach Barry, Trainer Simendinger, and Manager Bill Mahoney. The men who seem certain of catching the Limited, are Captain Carroll, the regular infield of Joe McIntee, Doc Gautreau, Pete Cote and Tweet Walsh, as outfielders, Joe Morrissey in right, Frank Savage in center, Buck Freeman in left. The likely substitute fielders are Shorty McMahon and Frank Farrell. The catching assignment will fall on Eddie Doherty

On next Sunday, April 5th, the Freshman-Sophomore debating team of Holy Cross, composed of Messrs. William Butler, '27, Maurice McLaughlin, '28 and William Griffin, '27, with Mr. Henry Eidenbach, '28 as alternate, will engage the Freshman-Sophomore team of Boston College on the subject of the entrance of the United States into the World Court. This question is at present receiving much attention among forensic circles. On March 22, in Worcester, the Holy Cross varsity team met B. C.'s varsity on this same question and received the judges' decision for their defense of the affirmative side which favors adherence to the Court.

This time the affray will take place in Boston and Holy Cross will uphold the negative, urging a continuance of the present policy of the United States, that of complete aloofness.

Mr. Quilty, S.J., who is coaching the junior team, expects a spirited contest as a result of the decision which was rendered in the last debate, but is confident that Holy Cross will return victorious for the second time.

Mr. J. Edward Bouvier, Director of the Musical Clubs, will again lead them. As Director of the Clubs, Mr. Bouvier has brought them to their present musical heights for which no little praise has been attributed to him. The concert which promises to have the largest attendance of the year to date, has been arranged by Mr. Charles J. Gallagher, S.J., moderator, and the officers of the clubs, assisted by the Purple Key.

Among the special features of the concert will be vocal solos by the leading songbirds of the College: Thomas P. Laffin, '26, tenor; and Edward F. Kennely, '25, baritone. Robert R. Nesbit, '25, will follow with a few cornet solos of his own selection. Mr. Nesbit possesses the distinction of being the premier college cornetist of the year. Paul D. Diederich, '28, the musical find of the year, will render violin solos with his customary superb artistry. The savage and at the same time gentle tones that only a saxophonist can afford, will be supplied by William J. O'Leary, '26. The Hilltoppers will likewise entertain with music of a lighter nature, at which they are adepts. The usual soothing harmony will be supplied by the quartet, consisting of Thomas P. Laffin, first tenor; James F. Lawlor, second tenor; Edward F. Kennely, first bass; and Joseph K. Zemaitis, second bass. This year the quartet has sung at the banquet of the New York alumni in honor of the rector, where they were received with great enthusiasm; at the Club's recitals in the various cities, and have broadcasted several times from the local radio station.

During the past scholastic year the Musical Clubs have given concerts at Winchendon, Clinton, Woonsocket, Fitchburg, Palmer, and recently at Gardner. They have also conducted recitals at St. Anne's Orphanage and at St. Vincent's Hospital. The Holy Cross Clubs are the largest college organization of their kind in the country, comprising over one hundred and ten trained singers and musicians who can look back upon a long series of successes.

SPRINGFIELD CLUB HAS GREAT SMOKER

At the Parish Hall of the Church of the Sacred Heart, the Springfield Undergraduate Club held an informal smoker last Tuesday evening under the competent management of Joseph C. Fenton, '26.

Mr. John A. O'Brien, S.J., and Father Warburton of the Sacred Heart Church were the honored guests of the evening and each gave a short talk before the final curtain was dropped on the evening's activities.

A WORD TO THE MINORITY

Holy Cross men have ever enjoyed a splendid reputation for their true sportsmanship and gentlemanly behavior. This element of conduct never needed any encouragement or urging on the Hill; it seems to be a natural thing. During the past several years, however, there has crept in among a small few of the undergraduates, a habit that should be stopped. It shows itself in an expression, however well intended, known as hissing. If a fellow happens to be a bit late for class; if a student is asked to do something in public by a professor; if a conspicuous class man is spied entering the stands at an athletic contest; in short, if any one does any action that causes the least attention, he is greeted with a salvo of hisses and boos by this small minority.

The habit was contracted innocently enough, and undoubtedly there is not the slightest bit of malice connected with it. Some cheerful fellow, whose mind worked in contradictions, probably initiated hissing as a unique form of applause. Among undergraduates who know each other intimately, these spontaneous outbursts are perfectly understood, and cause a good deal of wholesome amusement. But there is another element in it which we are apt to forget, and which changes the aspect of the practice from pure fun to vicious rowdyism. What is its effect on other people—people who do not know us? What consideration do we show our professors who have not grown up in this environment of contradiction? A hiss or a boo is very onomatopoeic, and as long as we live we shall realize that no normal person will interpret a loud lusty hiss for an expression of applause and cheer.

Though the practice obtains but among a few, yet hissing is very contagious. Once this germ roots itself, an epidemic is to be feared. Moreover, the deportment of a few frequently condemns an entire body. True, the minority intends no ill; but through their demoralizing actions, strangers and those who do not understand this vulgar mode of play are liable to lose sight of the true conduct and behavior that characterizes Holy Cross men.

THE CONTRIBUTION BOX

Recently THE TOMAHAWK arranged to have a contribution box placed in the Office of Discipline with the idea in mind of better co-operating with the student body in publishing news of the Hill. Again we wish to emphasize the fact that THE TOMAHAWK is published by and for Holy Cross men. So far our efforts in establishing this box have been in vain.

We hope to see more interest shown from this date on. Let us know what you think of THE TOMAHAWK and its various columns. Drop it in the Box.

Alumni Notes

'92 Rev. John P. Gorham, pastor of St. Charles' Church, Woburn, Mass., returned last week from Rome. Among the other Holy Cross men who made the Pilgrimage were: Rev. John F. Doherty, '92, of Norwood; Dr. Edward J. Walsh, '87, of Lowell; Rev. Timothy J. Fahey, ex-'94, of Walpole; and Rev. John T. O'Brien, '95, of Sharon. All the pilgrims were in excellent health, and were unanimous in declaring that the trip had been a wonderful and inspiring experience.

Ex-'93 John A. O'Connell, a graduate of the Medical School of the University of Pennsylvania, is on the staff of St. Agnes' Hospital, in Philadelphia, and is Secretary of the Board of Advisors of that institution.

'12 The mother of Francis P. Craig died recently at her home in Boston. R. I. P.

Daniel J. Kennedy, of Philadelphia, is now Assistant Title Officer of the Merion Title and Trust Company, one of the largest banking institutions of the Philadelphia suburbs, and accordingly has moved to Ardmore, Pennsylvania.

Ex-'15 Joseph A. Henderson, banker, having left the firm of Henderson, Newburger and Loeb, has now joined with Fitch, Crossman & Company of Philadelphia.

Ex-'15 Rev. William F. Casey, curate at St. Francis' Church, New Haven, will be one of the speakers at the banquet of the Waterbury Undergraduate Club, to be held during the Easter holidays.

'16 Dr. John D. Sheehan, formerly of Worcester, is now a practicing physician in Concord, Mass.

Francis M. Crowley is Director of the Bureau of Education of the National Catholic Welfare Conference, with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

'22 Raymond J. Devlin of New Haven will be graduated from the Yale Law School in June.

'23 "Bill" Healy has been having wonderful success as a coach at the Jesuit High School in New Orleans, and up to date his team alone has remained undefeated in the Prep School League.

Ex-'23 William E. Nolen is practicing law in Holyoke, Mass.

NEW YORK ALUMNI PLANS ANOTHER LADIES' NIGHT

The success of the first "Ladies' Night" of the New York Alumni gives rise to another which is to be held at the Club tomorrow. From all indications they will have an overflow gathering. The committee has in store numerous surprises for those who attend.

Under the direction of Cornelius Sullivan, '10, the committee arranging the Glee Club Concert and Dance are making great strides. Notable among other arrangements is the fact that the concert is to be broadcasted by station WJZ. Subscription to this affair will be six dollars per couple—very reasonable considering the splendid talent that is to be afforded.

FR. AHERN, S.J., APPEARS BEFORE NEWMAN CLUB

Rev. Michael J. Ahern, S.J., Dean of Chemistry at Holy Cross, was the principal speaker at the annual communion breakfast of the Newman Club of Worcester Tech, which was held on last Sunday, March 29th, at the Sally Louise restaurant. About 50 members of the club attended the affair.

Cordially invites the Alumni to visit their quarters on Wednesday evenings at the Hotel Shelton, Lexington Ave. and 49th St., New York City.

BUGHOUSE BEDTIME STORIES—No. 3

Well, Children, another week gone the way of all flesh. Here it is Lent and not a fish caught, nor an egg laid. But lo, and behold, or hark, if you prefer, and here goes:

No longer upon-a-time than yesterday there was a freshman—try to believe this—who had all the money he wanted to spend. The solution was that the folks who provided said tender were merely foster-folks, as it were. The gay youth, when much younger, was found one Christmas eve on the front stoop in the weekly wash. We might therefore consider him a step-child, hey kids? Well, 'tis said, the foster-father-to-be yelled, "Wash ya doin' here?" when he found the youngster; but it used to be proper to have a thick tongue on Christmas eve in those days.

Anyhow, developments compelled the babe to grow up under the handicap of Lawrence; which he did in conjunction with the maturing of the little girl next door, who was aided and abetted by the formula Lilly. And as kids they had the swellest fun! They used to make mud-pies and play funny-pictures, you know that game where they sling pies. You can see Lawrence had a weakness because he was always the willing recipient of the mud-pies, and Lilly could sling them where they did the most good!

Then in due time Lawrence fared forth for the halls of learning and college humor, whereas Lilly developed into the main support of the corner drug store and got a job dispensing the tickets at a Main Street movie. It is maintained for her distinction that she originated almost as famous a saying as Sherman's and didn't swear in it, either. Someone dashed up to her box-office one night and asked:

"Is it true that there's nothing left for tonight's show but standing room?"

And in a sudden flash of brilliancy, Lilly replied:

"Aisle say so!"

Lawrence, however, soon felt the duties of college life incumbent upon him and writing homeward he asked Lilly to the first football game of the season, advising her to bring her elder sister Mary along as chaperone. Lilly accepted, and on the fateful day Lawrence trembled into his most audible checks and stripes, dogged himself all out, and went to the train. He had a catch-line all doped out and ready to work on her as soon as she alighted.

"Take off the traveling-bag," he yelled, "I know you!"

Then he paled in fear and inquired:

"Where's Mary?"

Lilly unleashed an 803-watt smile, one of those tooth-paste ad gags, and proceeded to kid:

"She's still on the training helping to overpower a Mammy-singer who started rehearsing."

Then Mary showed up! A real nice girl! They called her Wrigley because she could gum up any party one hand, and stick it out till the finish. She's the girl that inspired that song, "Oh, What a Pall Was Mary!"

Thence to a restaurant. What fools we freshmen be! After the first fifteen minutes Lawrence requested the orchestra, which had evidently been playing havoc with the instruments, to render "Where's My Sweetie Hiding"—it all.

Oh! I may have forgotten to remark that Lawrence was one of those jealous guys with a disposition to fight if his girl should be led to focus even one smile on another. You might say he had a duel personality. And that wrought his ruin, because he resented a wink from a youth at another table, who must have been a barber, because he clipped Lawrence without hesitation; so that when they assembled the participants in the fray the blackest eyes were found to belong to none other than Lawrence. As for Lilly, she got scared at the first blow, so she went riding with an upper-classman.

Glean a lesson, therefore, children, and if you ever go to college try not to be freshmen.

—W. H., Jr., '27.

BIBLIOGRAPHIES FOR PRIZE ESSAYS

The bibliography for the Strain medal which is awarded for the best philosophical essay on "Is Capital Punishment Immoral?" is the following: Second volume of Fr. Cronin's "Ethics," Fr. Rickaby's "Moral Philosophy," Fr. Coppen's "Moral Philosophy," twelfth volume of Catholic Encyclopaedia, Fr. Ross' "Christian Ethics," "Individual Ethics" in Senior Ethics notes, "Reading Lists" volume of Encyclopaedia. All these books may be procured in the Holy Cross Library.

The Flaherty medal detailed information may be obtained from the following lists of books: For "The Infancy of the United States" consult John Fiske's "A Critical Period in American History;" Histories by Mc-

Chiefs' One-Mile Relay Team to Run at Loyola University Relay Carnival

Plans for the appearance of the Holy Cross one-mile relay team, at the National Relay Carnival of Loyola University at Chicago on April 19 were completed this afternoon when a faculty member of that institution visited the Hill.

This will be the initial appearance of the Purple in the West, and some of the foremost Western college quartets have been booked to match strides with the Chiefs. Georgetown also has accepted an invitation to appear.

With Captain Joe Tierney back in the harness and going in great style, it looks as if ample restitution will be made for the previous defeats administered at the hands of the championship Blue and Grey flyers.

Walter Mulvihill, Ed Higgins, Frank Burns and Leo Larrivee will most probably be the men along with Joe, who will introduce the Purple to Western sport devotees.

Golf Team To Use Club Course

Through the courtesy of the Board of Governors of the Worcester Country Club and the activity of Manager O'Brien, the club course has been placed at the disposal of the golf team for its matches.

This is a great boost to the Purple golfers as the course is one of the best in the country and this year it will be the scene of the National Open Championship Tournament.

The tourney to decide the complement of the team will most probably be held the week of April 27, and many of the boys have already started practice. Out back of O'Kane a three-hole course is daily affording many devotees the opportunity of perfecting their use of the woods and irons. The city links also will soon open up their greens.

The schedule so far includes as possible opponents, Harvard, Dartmouth, Amherst, Boston University and Brown, but definite announcement as to dates is being withheld.

TENNIS SQUAD WORKS INDOORS

Five Veterans on Hand

With the largest squad out in the history of Holy Cross, the tennis prospects on the Hill continue to be very bright. From the sixteen men who are daily working out in the gym, a team of ability to cope with the difficult schedule that has been arranged, should easily be found. The "Chiefs" headed by five veterans of the court will surely be a formidable opponent for any college in the East this season.

Jack Cullen of Washington, D. C., who leads the racketeers this year, is a veteran of two seasons of intercollegiate competition, having been a member of the successful team of two years ago and also a reliable point getter of last season's club.

Another veteran who is showing up well in practice is Jackie Martin of basketball fame. He, like Cullen, has been a member of the varsity for the past two years, during both of which he played a stellar game. He plays a fast, hard hitting game, is all over the court and executes forehand or backhand strokes with equal dexterity.

Grouped about Cullen and Martin as a nucleus, are Kenelly, Dodge, MacCarthy and O'Keefe, all capable men who have garnered their insignia in this branch of athletics.

GRIDMEN PRACTICE ON ALUMNI FIELD

Grid practice for the thirty-odd moleskin warriors continues down on Alumni field and vies with their baseball neighbors for the interest of the numerous spectators. Coaches Kelly and Simendinger have been in charge of the workouts which consist of line charging, throwing and receiving forwards and usually wind up with a signal drill. The present sessions are for the purpose of conditioning the players and perfecting the plays that will be used during the scrimmages which Coach O'Donnell expects to hold after the holidays.

THE PITCHERS

Carroll, Peloquin, Davidson, O'Neill and Ray. On the ability of these five pitchers depends the ultimate success of the 1925 baseball season. Of Carroll there is not an iota of worry or doubt except the injury jinx. Ownie is the greatest college twirler that ever toed the slab. His record is unsurpassed, and in this campaign he ought to be good for at least 15 victories.

Both Peloquin and Davidson are freshmen, and while at high school were hailed as phenoms, so far both have shown good fast balls and a fair curve. Their control, however, is not all that could be desired. Before coming to the Hill, Peloquin threw them up for Woonsocket, while Davidson made his reputation up in the Pine Tree State.

Tip O'Neill was the twirler of last year's freshman nine and has the best curve ball, barring Carroll's on the squad. Tip is capable of pitching a nice ball game, for while at St. Benedict's, Carroll's Alma Mater, he was considered on a par with Ownie. Mike Ray has been on the squad for two seasons and this year seems destined to land a regular berth.

INSIDE BASEBALL

The recent statements accredited to a certain college baseball coach as to the impossibility of teaching inside baseball to college men seems to be belied by the continued success of Holy Cross nines, whose greatest asset is their knowledge and application of real baseball strategems. The arguments as to the lack of time lacks cogency if a college football team is able to afford time for being grounded in fundamentals and thoroughly polished in fine points of offensive and defensive play.

The Holy Cross nine receives an intensive training in inside baseball and its application and their bunting ability in the execution of the squeeze or the more sensational double squeeze and their fitness in the use of the hit and run are familiar weapons of conquest applied by them to triumph over less schooled opponents. In view of these results alone, Coach Jack Barry's methods warrant justification. Jack is the most successful and the keenest college baseball coach in the country. The "Rockne" of baseball.

The old Athletic star was himself once a student on The Hill, and so understands the temperament and the capabilities of his pupils, no one can get more out of a player than Barry. It would appear, then, that any other coach in neglecting so important a feature would be but handicapping his proteges and any inability on the part of the men to absorb such fundamentals reflects merely on the individuals themselves or perhaps on the fitness of the mentor.

At a regular meeting of the Athletic Association, Cyril McDermott of Brooklyn, N. Y., was elected assistant manager of the basketball team. News of the Non-Residents

"The Feast of the Annunciation" was the subject of an appropriate and inspiring talk given by Rev. Michael Earls, S.J., before the members of the Day Scholars Sodality at the weekly meeting held in Faculty Chapel, Wednesday, March 25th. Father Earls also discussed plans for the annual reception of members in May.

Thomas F. O'Malley, '25, of Clinton, was favored with the leading male role in a play presented by the Cecelian Girls' Club of Clinton last week. This is not the first time that Tom has donned the thespian robes, and his recent attempt was well received.

At the bi-monthly meeting of the Worcester Undergraduate Club, held in Loyola, Wednesday noon, March 25th, President George F. Wrightson read the report of the officers on the matter of a post-Lenten dance.

The report disclosed the inadvisability of conducting an informal affair on April 20th, the date originally planned, but strong assurance was given that it will be presented at a later date.

John M. O'Brien, '25, vice-president of the Senior class and recent member of the basketball squad, has figured prominently in games with the local Boys' Club team since the collegiate season has ended.

NEW HAVEN CLUB HOLD EASTER DANCE

The New Haven Undergraduate Club is the latest of the sectional organizations to plan an Easter dance. Edward Fitzgerald, '28, vice-president of the Freshman class, was elected chairman of the dance committee and, in the past two weeks, has just about finished his plans, which follow in brief:

The Club will run an informal supper dance on Easter Monday night at the New Haven Lawn Club of that city. The music which will play from nine to one will be provided by Brennan's Orchestra. Incidental plans for dance orders and the like have not been quite completed as yet. The dance is expected to be a big success and is hoped to rival even the splendid affair which the Club put on during the Christmas holidays at the Beaver Hill Club.

Mr. Fitzgerald's committees are headed by the following men: Decorating, George Close, '28; program and favors, John Johnson; refreshment, John Reynolds; music, William Kelly; reception, James Fahy. These men are assisted by an able corps of committeemen from the different classes.

FR. RECTOR GIVES RETREAT TO KNIGHTS

Owing to the death of Rev. Michael J. Coyne, the annual retreat of Alhambra Council, Knights of Columbus, was transferred from the Church of the Immaculate Conception to St. Anne's Church. The exercises terminated last Sunday morning with general communion and a breakfast in the Bancroft Hotel. The services were conducted by Father Joseph N. Dinand, S.J., who delivered sermons on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.

'28 Awards Numerals

The numerical emblems, indicative of participation in class athletic contests, will be awarded at the next meeting of 1928. In addition the Assistant Football Managers for next season will be chosen from the Freshman Class during the course of the week.

Monroe Doctrine Discussed in B. J. F.

If you are interested in the Monroe Doctrine, and failed to hear the debate at the B. J. F. meeting of last Thursday evening, you lost a splendid opportunity to be enlightened upon the subject. The question was worded: "Resolved: That the United States should abandon the Monroe Doctrine in view of present conditions." William Zeigler, '26, and Richard Langan, '26, for the negative, overwhelmed James Daly, '25, and Myron V. Miller, '25. A vote of two to one was given by the judges. Joseph Burke was appointed critic.

Open Forum Held in Philomathic

The last meeting of the Philomathic Debating Society, held Friday evening, saw the exit of regular debates for the remainder of the year. Accordingly an open forum was held on the question, "Resolved: That the United States should enter the World Court upon the conditions presented by President Harding, and approved by President Coolidge." Many took advantage of the opportunity to speak, and strong arguments flew thick and fast. Credit must be given to William T. Griffin, '27, for a thorough explanation of the court and its general status.

EASTER SCHEDULE OF MUSICAL CLUBS

The Easter trip of the Musical Clubs will start on April 16th and end on the 22nd of the same month. On this trip the Clubs will give concerts at New Rochelle, N. Y.; Montclair, N. J.; New York City, where they will be heard at the Plaza Hotel, followed by a dance; New Haven, Conn.; and later in Boston at the Symphony Hall.

HOLIDAY DANCE BY HOLYOKE CLUB MEN

The undergraduate club of Holyoke will wind up the coming Easter vacation in a whirl of social activity. On the night of Easter Monday, the Third Annual Dinner Dance of the club will be held at the Nonotuck Hotel, Holyoke. The club is determined to turn this occasion to good account, and has elected Mr. Charles E. Lynch, '25, head of the dance committee with orders to spare neither money or means in the effort to prepare an elaborate program. Mr. Lynch has chosen as his assistants Messrs. Joseph Lacey, '26; Francis Craven, '27, Romuald Selienski, '25, and Timothy Mannix, '28.

By dint of much extensive planning the committee has provided many features which promise to make this affair by far the most brilliant ever conducted by the club. The main ballroom of the Nonotuck will be the scene of the gathering. Eddie Wittstein's Orchestra of New Haven, which played at the Holy Cross Junior Prom, and the Hotel Nonotuck Orchestra will alternate in furnishing the melody for the dancing which will be continuous from nine o'clock until three.
